Compost Bins and Rain Barrels

Every Spring the DPW partners with a vendor to offer compost bins and rain barrels to residents. Composting at your home is easy and a great way to divert food waste from the trash. Collecting rainwater run-off from the impervious surface of your roof to water plants, grass and gardens is an easy way to reduce your water and sewer bill! Check out www.townofchelmsford.us/735/Compost-Bin-and-Rain-Barrel-Program for more information on the annual program. Compost can also be used in your gardens. It slowly releases nutrients into the soil and can make your plants more productive and resistant to disease.

Talkin' Trash and Recycling!

Where It Goes and How It Works

Have you ever wondered what happens to your recycling and trash after it is picked up curbside?

- Recycling
 - Your recycling is picked up by Waste Management and is brought to their Material Recovery Facility (MRF) in Billerica, MA where it is dumped on the tip floor and processed through a series of machines that sort the material based on composition. This video is a great overview of the process: <https://youtu.be/7CFE5tD1CCl>
 - The material is bailed and sold as a commodity in the US and international recycling market. You may have heard that China is no longer accepting recycling from the US and that has dramatically impacted the market. Recyclers work hard every day to improve processes and product to get the most value out of their recycled material.
- Trash
 - Your trash is picked up by Republic Services and is brought to Covanta in Haverhill, MA. Covanta is a resource recovery or waste-to-energy facility that incinerates trash and generates electricity. This facility processes 1,650 tons of solid waste a day and generates up to 49 megawatts of electricity. This video is a great overview of the process: <https://youtu.be/lmtOuAed5nM>
 - This process, although beneficial in the generation of electricity, is expensive and takes a toll on the environment. Anything we can do as residents to divert material from the incinerator (reduce, reuse, recycle, compost) will minimize our impact on the local environment and ensure that tax dollars go to funding other important services.
